RICHMOND WELL PROVISIONED FOR THREATENED R. R. STRIKE

MERCHANTS BELIEVE PRICES OF PERISHABLE FOODS WILL DROP; EASTERN GOODS TO RISE

City Passenger Agent W. B. Trull of the Santa Fe received the following communication relative to the proposed railroad strike from President E. P. Ripley this morning. It follows:

TO THE PUBLIC:

In view of the announcement of certain employees of this company to engage in a strike to become effective at 7 a. m. Monday, September 4, agents the instructed as follows:

First: To notify intending travellers that the company will not be responsible for any delay that may occur after the time above mentioned.

Second: To notify all shippers that property, except perishable property, live stock and explosives will be received after 7 a. m. Monday, September 4, for transportation subject to indefinite delay, and shipping receipts or bills of lading so endorsed. Perishable property, live stock and explosives will not be received for transportation until further advised.

Third: It will be the purpose of the company so far as it may be in its power to do so to provide transportation necessary for the health and subsistence of the communities dependent upon it.

Fourth: To move at least one train each way daily for the transportation of passengers, mail and express.

Fifth: To gradually expand these activities so far as may be practicable. Agents have been advised to notify all parties interested in accordance with the foregoing program and will notify officers of municipalities that the ability to carry out our present intentions will be largely dependent on their willingness and ability to afford protection to the company and its property in so doing.

Agent Trull in speaking of the strike said: "It seems almost positive at the present time that the brotherhoods will call the men from work on Monday. I do not think that the strike will last any great length of time. One of the surprising features of the strike will be the large per cent of men who will remain with the railroads for the good treatment which they have received in the past."

R. R. SITUATION IS ANALYZED BY LOCAL MERCHANT

A local merchant analyzes the food supply for Richmond in the threatened railroad strike as follows:

"Of foods such as most of the staples there is a 30-day supply here.

"We get our flour from Stockton, Oregon and Washington. It all comes by water. No excuse for a raise.

"Contra Costa county is one of the greatest sugar refining centers of the United States.

"Our vegetables come direct from the delta region near Antioch and the Sacramento and San Joaquin districts. Ninety per cent of these products are shipped by boat.

"The milk comes from Marin county and the Contra Costa valleys.

"Butter, excelling some of the California brands, comes from Humboldt by boat.

"Meats, much of it comes from Marysville and can be safely and rapidly handled by the Northern Electric company which connects with the Oakland-Antioch Railway, passing through this county.

"I want to say this to the people of Richmond: 'There is no possible way that their food supply can be interfered with.' If the distributors tell you they must charge more for the above mentioned products come right back at them."

Days have passed since the cleanup campaign in this city began, when Rev. P. E. Petersen filed his affidavit against these houses with the county clerk and still the office of the district attorney has done nothing. Rose Porter is still occupying her cottage at No. 70 Railroad avenue and houses adjoining are vacant. It is presumed that the Porter woman is plying her trade. Although the district attorney has been asked to remove her, so that owners of the property adjoining can rent to reputable tenants. He has not acted.

CZAR'S TROOPS WIN PANKER PASS IN DRIVE

LONDON, Aug. 31.—After weeks of furious fighting in the Carpathians, in which Austrians have resisted bitterly the Russian attempts to smash a path into Hungary via the mountains, the Czar's troops have captured Panker mountain and Rafalov, near the Hungarian border.

This success opens up an avenue over which, military critics here believe, will enable the Russians to swoop down upon the Hungarian plains.

Should these successes develop, the situation for Austria-Hungary with the Russians on one side and the Rumanians on the other will be grave.

50 R. R. GUARDS

Officials of the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific companies were in long consultation with Sheriff R. R. Veale at Martinez this morning. Information given was that 50 guards will be deputized at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

It is the intention of the railroad officials to have the guards stationed at each railway station in Contra Costa county during the strike.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—While railroad presidents in conference at Chicago were preparing today for co-operation in the event of a strike, there were indications at Washington that a tie-up would be prevented by a measure to be passed tomorrow by the House providing for the eight-hour day, an increase in the membership of the interstate commerce commission and a provision for the military operation of the railroads. President Wilson was given assurance of such action and he wore a broad smile after conferring with legislative leaders. Brotherhood leaders asserted that the passage of an eight-hour law would prevent a strike.

The Senate Interstate Commerce Committee opened a hearing in the hope of finding a means to prevent the strike.

STEGE TOUGHS MOLEST YOUNG GIRLS ON WAY FROM FACTORY

Calfee, spent all of today at Stege securing descriptions of a gang of toughs and the number of machines which they have been using in molesting young girls employed at the Stege Cap works. UNDERSEA WARFARE DENIED BY GERMANS

BERLIN, Aug. 31.—The Overseas News Agency today gave out the following item:

According to recent reports, the American press is concerned about a so-called "Manifesto" by Grand Admiral von Tirpitz regarding naval warfare. No such manifesto is known in Germany. Evidently use has been made of a private telegram of the retired admiral with the object of estranging the feeling between the United States and Germany.

DRILL 2 DOORS, RIFLE DESK OF COLLECTIONS FOR MONTH

Passing up priceless books as mere trifles, a burglar broke into the Public Library last night, securing $8.52. The money was taken from a desk in the private office of Miss Della Wilsey, city librarian.

It is thought that the same person who entered the library broke into the Richmond Union High school, rifling the desks of Superintendent W. T. Helms and Principal B. X. Tucker. No loss is reported.

Entrance was gained by the marauder through a rear door which was broken with a hatchet. A steel drill was used in gaining entrance through the oak door leading to the librarian's office.

The robbery was discovered at 6 o'clock this morning by a janitor making his rounds. Desks in the children's room and the main office were rifled for cash. A filing cabinet was turned topsy-turvy.

Miss Wilsey in speaking of the robbery today seemed of the opinion it might have been some enemy. Several dollars worth of stamps in Miss Wilsey's desk were not touched. The police are working on the case.

WHEN THE STRIKE COMES

The great railroad strike which is scheduled to take place Monday morning at 7 o'clock should not effect the prices of food in and around San Francisco bay to any considerable extent, but on the contrary many kinds of food products should be cheaper, instead of higher. California has been sending east 400 carloads of vegetables and fresh fruits and this has all been stopped. In other words growers of fresh fruits and vegetables must depend on the home markets for their products and this should create a decline in prices for these commodities.

So far as flour is concerned none of it is shipped to the bay region by train, but all comes to us by boat. There should be no raise in the price of flour.

Poultry and eggs are largely supplied from Petaluma and the Santa Rosa and Sonoma valleys. These sections are all reached by boat or by electric lines and these will not in any wise be effected by the strike.

In the matter of fresh meats there is likely to be a considerable raise in prices, for the most of the meats we get here come from across the Sierra Nevada mountains, but for the present at least and for the next three or four months stock on the hoof can be driven to this market, if it be necessary to do so.

There should not be a great increase in sugar, so far as the California market is concerned. This is one of the greatest sugar producing states in the union and if the rail shipments east are cut off, eventually this product should be reduced in price, instead of increased.

But whatever may be the condition of the labor world, the people of Richmond and the bay region will subsist in much the same manner as if the strike did not exist. Some things will be higher, but the general average will be about the same. Some of the retailers will doubtless endeavor to take advantage of the situation to make larger profits, but in the main the general prices will not be greatly increased. A large wholesaler of food products in San Francisco has given out the following interview which tells the whole story:

"I want to say this to the people of San Francisco and vicinity: There is no possibly way that their food supply can be badly interfered with. If the distributors of food tell you that they have to charge more on account of the strike come right back at them.

"Don't he imposed on and don't be cheated by men who want to profit by every scare they can create.

"There is plenty for all and plenty of ways to get it here."

SERVING ONE'S COUNTRY

"Deserter" is perhaps too harsh a word for the eighteen-year-old Ohio boy who ran away from Camp Willis at Columbus, Ohio, because he didn't want to do the work of a day laborer. If we are to judge by his explanation, he would not have been the coward to run away from the battle line or faltered in the fight.

"We had to dig ditches and trenches all day long!" he cried "When we got them dug they made us fill them up again.

"That's a fine way to serve your country! I didn't enlist to be a day laborer. I wanted to fight."

But the explanation didn't go with his old father, who had fought in the Franco-Prussian war and knew the meaning of discipline, and who had also read enough about the present European war to know how large a figure ditch-digging cuts in the career of a modern soldier.

Poor fellow! He wasn't so very old, and so the years hadn't dealt with him long enough and gravely enough to teach him the big lesson that life's biggest battles are not always fought out where the flags are flying. He didn't know that just learning to dig trenches, even the unrelenting discipline of slinging each shovelful only to throw it back again, was what must go into the making of a soldier.

And when he came home, having failed to stand up under this sort of grind, his poor father, who had learned in an older country what it means to be a soldier, blushed for shame.

But that father should have blushed a little at his own failure as well as his son's. For was it not a great measure his own fault that his son had not learned to obey orders, and had never been taught that whatever comes, a good man sticks to his job? Those were the two lessons that somebody should have taught that boy before he was eight, not eighteen.

As it was, this would-be soldier, who was all on fire to save his country, imagined that it could be all done with the blare of trumpet and the unfurled flag, little dreaming that every man who masters himself, who knows the value of the humble task well done, who digs ditches only to fill them up again if by so doing some greater ditch may some day be dug—that every man who has learned these lessons of steadfastness and discipline helps to save his country every day.

WAR CHECKERBOARD

Military experts estimate that at present the Allies have about 23,000,000 effective soldiers and the Teutons 10,500,000. If these figures are anywhere near correct—and their substantial accuracy doesn't seem to be questioned—they represent clearly the hopeless situation that confronts the Teutons.

Man-power alone could not win the war. But man-power has now become the decisive factor in a complex problem, in no other factor of which the Central powers any longer show manifest superiority.

The Allies' troops are now fighting with a skill and spirit not inferior to that of the Germans. The Allies are at last working in complete co-operation, with a strategic plan which gives the unity of action hitherto possessed only by their foes. The Allies have also perfected an economic organization for war that is characterized by genuine German efficiency. The Allies are applying to war purposes material and financial resources far greater than those controlled by the Teutons. The Allies have the freedom of the munition markets of the world to supplement their own vast output, and they command unlimited credit in the world's money markets. The various nations of the Entente are as zealous in the prosecution of the war as are the Germans, and much more so than are the Austro-Hungarians, Bulgarians and Turks

The Allies problem, then, becomes that of the checker player who has twice as many men left on the board as his opponent has. His aim is to "take men." His fundamental policy is the now familiar one of "attrition." If he can exchange man for man, or even three men for two, in the end he is bound to win.

THE SELFISH WOMAN AT THE RICHMOND THIS EVENING

The third photodrama in which Wallace Reid and Cleo Ridgleyare are to be co-starred by the Lasky company is "The Selfish Woman," which is the Paramount attraction at the Richmond today. This is a picturization of Hector Turnbull's thrilling story written especially for these two clever stars who scored such a triumph in "The Golden Chance" and "The Love Mask."

"The Vagabond" played yesterday to a full house and will be shown in this theater tonight for the last time. It surely is a funny picture.

Another feature of the program is "Napoleon and Sally" the wonderful chimpanzees.

Tomorrow and Friday the Richmond picture-loving public will have the opportunity of viewing the attempted burning at the stake of a white man, from an orchestra chair, a dangerous diversion. But the actor who played the captive in the Pallas-Paramount "Davy Crockett" actually toyed with death to make the scene.

Tied with rawhide thongs to the stake and surrounded by fire around which real redmen danced gave atmosphere but the fire make a bigger blaze than anticipated.

The thongs had burned through and his clothes were ablaze when Dustin Farnum acting the role of "Davy Crockett" made the spectacular rescue through the flames.

True histrionic instinct held the player to his post until Dustin quickly made the prearranged rescue. Of such stuff are motion picture actors made.

RICHMOND PROVISIONED FOR THREATENED STRIKE

opinion that the prices on perishable foodstuffs will drop while those on eastern goods will rise.

Frank Lancaster, proprietor of the Independent Market said:

"Should the strike last longer than 10 days, prices on fresh meat will increase. Most of the meat shipped to the bay counties at the present time comes from Nevada. I believe that the wholesalers in anticipation of the strike have stocked up for a period of two weeks."

Charles Pulse of Pulse Bros. says: "The present grocery supply of Richmond should last for at least 30 days. It all depends on the wholesalers. There will be no way to secure butter and dairy products from Fresno, but this can be offset with the Humboldt products arriving by boat. Raw ham has raised in price in the last few days, jumping to twenty-four and one-half cents a pound. At this time last year the price was nineteen cents a pound.

B. McWhorter, west side grocer: "With the coming of the strike prices on perishable products should drop while that on eastern goods will go out of sight. The merchants of this city will continue supplying the railroad employes who go on a strike as in the past. They will have to see the siuation through some way."

It is the opinion of the various Richmond merchants that Richmond should not feel the effects of the strike any more than San Francisco. The only towns which will suffer are those in the interior who depend solely on the railroads for provisions.

CONTEMPT SHOWN FOR RUMANIA

BERLIN, Aug. 31.—Archduke Frederick, who commands an Austro-Hungarian army in the east, issued the following army order on the occasion of Rumania's entrance into the war:

Soldiers and war comrades: You have been told that a new enemy has risen in the ranks of our adversaries, the kingdom of Rumania. Your upright soldiers' sense will find contempt for this dilatory assault. We have overcome during the last year many grave hours. We will also fight the new combat with honor and loyalty to our oath sworn to the flag of our chief command. God be with you.

EASILY DECIDED

This Question Should Be Answered Easily by Richmond People.

Which is wiser— to have confidence in the opinions of your fellow-citizens, of people you know, or depend on statements made by utter strangers residing in far-away places? Read the following:

Mrs. E. V. Wooten, 245 Fifteenth St., Richmond, says: "My kidneys were disordered and I had pains in my back. There was a dull, heavy ache in my back and when I walked, every step seemed to jar my whole system. I was very nervous and the least annoyance made me excited. My feet swelled so badly that I couldn't put my shoes on and there was a retention of the kidney secretions. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills gave me great relief, helping me in every way."

AUTO CARAVAN TO REPRESENT FRESNO AT FAIR

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 31.—Fresno county and the San Joaquin valley in general are preparing to take complete possession of the State Fair, which opens Saturday, for two days next week, commencing Thursday, September 7.

The biggest automobile caravan ever formed in California will make the trip from Fresno to this city. Between 300 and 400 automobiles will be in line. The caravan will take along special repair trucks so that any breakdown between towns can be immediately repaired.

It is probable that a big reception and dance in honor of the San Joaquin valley boosters who will number 2,000, will be given at the Fair on the evening of September 7.

The caravan is under the auspices of the following Fresno organizations: Republican Staff, District Fair association, County Board of Supervisors, Merchants Association, Chamber of Commerce, Commercial Club, Automobile Men's Association and Fresno Traffic Association. These will be assisted by the California Raisin Festival Association, San Joaquin Valley Counties Association, California Raisin Association and California Peach Growers Association.

Today the fancy chickens for the poultry exhibits arrived. The bird exhibits this year are doubled in size, and a $5000 addition to the poultry pavilion has been constructed. All the breeders of high-class birds in California are represented in the exhibit.

AUSTRIANS LAUNCH NEW OFFENSIVE

ROME, Aug. 31.—A new Austro-Hungarian offensive against the Italians in the Trentino was overshadowed by a 24-hour artillery bombardment of General Cadorna's positions between the Adige and Brenta rivers, reported by tonight's War office statement. The report claims several minor successes for the Italians at various points of the line. The lull in the fighting around Gorizia continues. The Italians straightened out their line on the Carso plateau as a result of local actions.

ALL QUIET ALONG SOMME SAYS LONDON

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The lull in the fighting on the Somme front continues due to persistent bad weather. The last 24 hours saw no action on a large scale, but the British made some minor gains today, traightening out their line across a small salient south of Martinpuich. Thirty-eight prisoners were taken.

The French frustrated two German efforts to attack near Reillon, in Lorraine, and make progress east of Fleury in the Verdun area.

The German War office announced this afternoon the ejection of British troops from German positions penetrated north of Ovillers and Pozieres last night. The repulse of French attacks on the Verdun front is also reported.

All official statements record lively artillery duels at vital parts of the western front despite inclement weather.

NOTES FROM THE PLAYHOUSES

PANTAGES THEATRE (Oakland)

Oklahoma Bob Albright, the man who makes friends everytime he sings, is the big feature this week at the Oakland Pantages. Bob has a personality like no other on the stage; and he happens to have a voice to match it. The result is seen every night, when he "stops the show," causing George Garside, who is held responsible for the overtime in the orchestra and the stage hands, many anxious moments.

However, between Albright's singing and Garside's swearing (of course the audience does not hear that) the show is a great program of joy. "The Elopers" add to the merriment, for Teddy and Nellie McNamara and their associates, Jessie Baker and the dancing girls, offer a musical comedy that is hard to beat on the vaudeville stage. They make fun while the spotlight shines—and then some.

Dickinson and Deagon, late stars of "The Candy Shop" offer one of the most artistic hits the Pantages has seen in many weeks. Miss Deagon's child impersonations are among the most remarkable in the world, and she gives some decidedly original conceptions at the Pantages. Hower Dickinson is a natural comedian, and does not rely on grease paint or stock jokes for his comedy.

Florence Mayfield is a lively singer who makes laughs and music together, and Davitt and Duval please the audience with their sketch "Holding Out," a bit of "inside dope" on theaters and theaterdom. La Zar and Dale offer a comedy black face act, and Will Morris does cycling comedy.

Next week comes the "Yellow Menace," a remarkable film in which Edwin Stevens, creater of the role of "The Devil" appears as the conquerer of humanity. This will teach a lesson—and entertains at the same time.

The party that has made prosperity during a war, the like of which the world never saw before, can maintain that prosperity when peace finally comes.

Let's hope results of that Washington conference of state health officials and those of the public health service will lessen the infantile paralysis scare, if it fails to cure the disease.
